

Abstract Details

Title: An Analytical Study of Data Mining for Securing Web Services

Author: Navita, Suman Lata, Dr. Pardeep Goel

Abstract: The paper explains the concept of data mining and web services. Here, the methods of securing the web services are explained. The different issues in the web services are discussed in this paper. The different data mining techniques which are used in web services explained in this paper. A Web service is a method of communication between two electronic devices and the data mining techniques are used to make web services secure and these are used in improving the data usage.

Keywords: Data Mining, Web Services, Web Services Technologies, Web Services Usage.